Pierre Arditi to be honoured with the Crystal Nymph

Monaco, 30 April 2025

Pierre Arditi will receive the prestigious Crystal Nymph Award at the opening ceremony of the 64th Monte-Carlo Television Festival on Friday, 13 June 2025. The honour will be presented by His Serene Highness Prince Albert II of Monaco, recognising Arditi's outstanding lifetime contribution to television.

A towering figure in French-speaking entertainment, Pierre Arditi has enjoyed a remarkable sixty-year career, becoming one of the most prolific French actors. Celebrated for his work on stage and in film, it is on television that he has left an indelible mark, appearing in more than one hundred productions and bringing to life memorable, nuanced characters that have endeared him to generations of viewers.

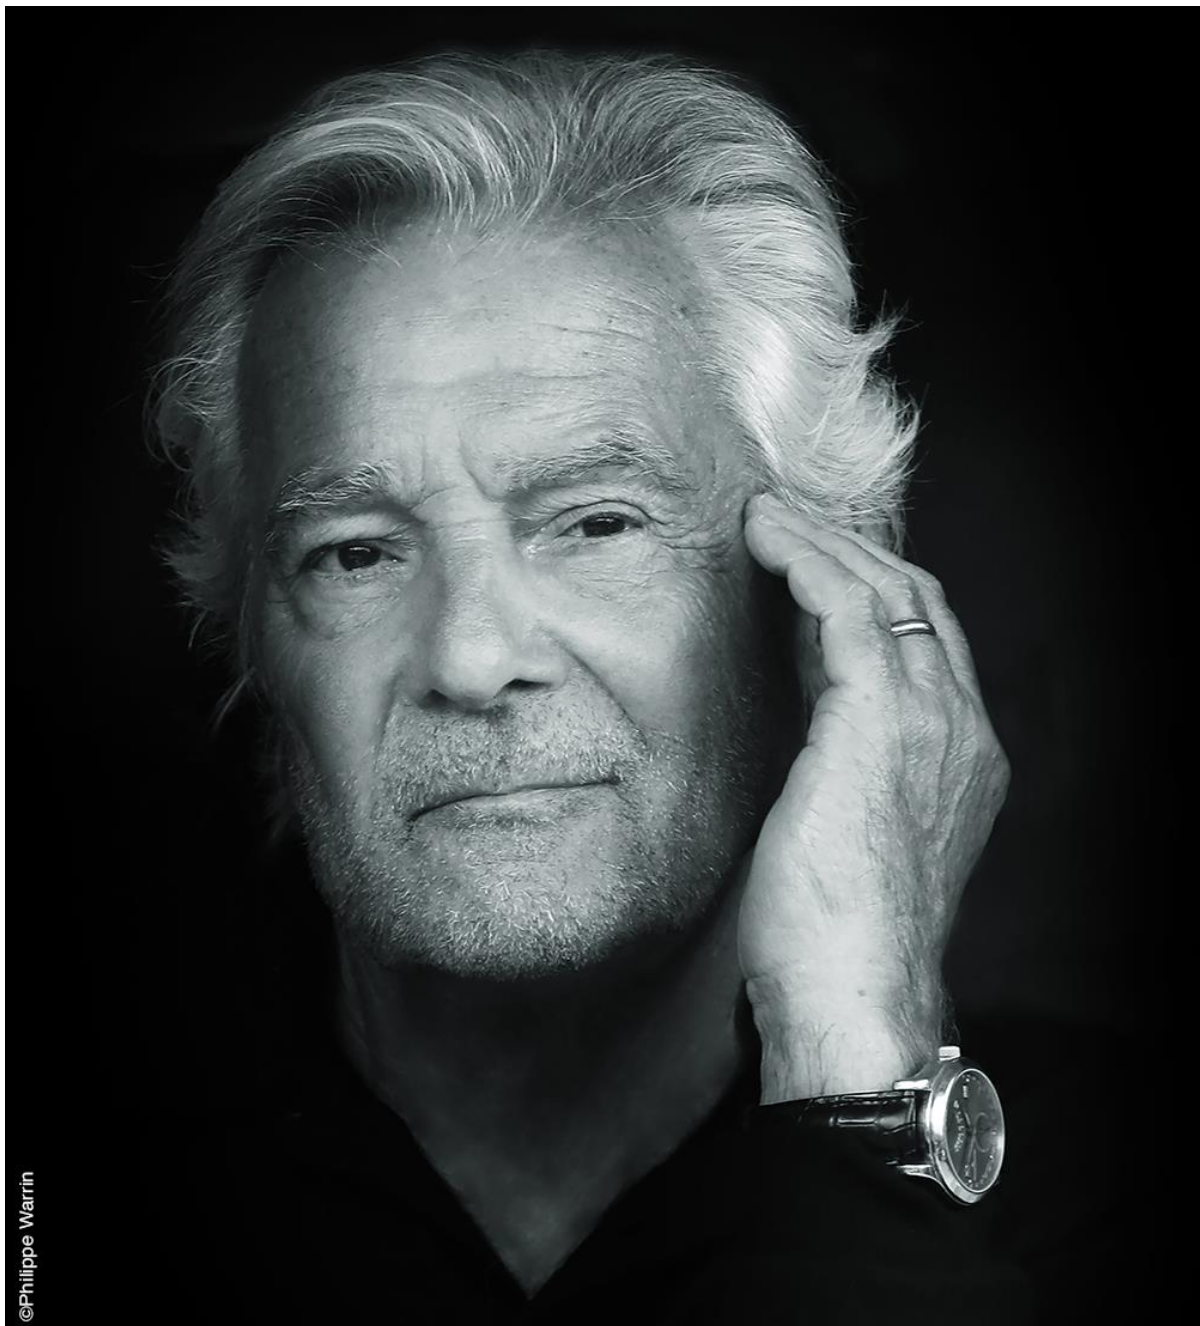

Arditi's roles in acclaimed series such as Sauveur Giordano — portraying a former police officer turned mediator — and Le Sang de la Vigne have demonstrated his ability to seamlessly move between drama, comedy, crime, and social storytelling. His more recent performances in Ce que Pauline ne vous dit pas and Le Grand Restaurant affirm that his talent and on-screen magnetism remain as compelling as ever.

"Pierre Arditi epitomises television that is both popular and exacting, accessible yet refined. His loyalty to the medium, his enduring appeal across generations, and his exceptional body of work make him a natural choice for this award. We are deeply honoured to celebrate his career in Monte-Carlo," said Cécile Menoni, Executive Director of the Monte-Carlo Television Festival.

Since 1961 the Crystal Nymph continues a Festival tradition of celebrating television's greatest talent worldwide. It honours not just exceptional longevity but a true dedication to the art of television.
